

My Life in Pictures: Speedway Through the Lens

This is a unique and evocative collection from the unrivalled photo archive of speedways most experienced and longest-serving photographer, Alf Weedon. Much-travelled maestro Weedon, now 85, takes supporters on a long and nostalgic journey through speedway history that began in the early 50s and spans six decades right up to the present day, capturing more images than anybody else of all the sports post-war legends and tracks. Many of these speedway superstars pictured as youve never seen them before! As well as recalling all speedways biggest names, in words and pictures, many of them previously unpublished, the charismatic Weedon also traces his own colourful career on the other side of the fence, including a spell as a promoter at Great Yarmouth in the 60s.
