

Body in the Park (Rita Patel Mysteries Book 1)

Human remains are found in Bradgate Country Park near Leicester. Rita Patel, aged 16 and waiting for her GCSE results, learns that the body may belong to a girl who lived in her house 40 years ago and she decides to find out more. For Rita it is the summer of 2012, while the dead girl, Claire Watson, also 16 years of age, left the house in Elm Drive for a better life in February 1972. Circumventing her parents attempts to protect her, Rita manages to enrol her unwitting family and her History teacher, into her investigations into Claires death. Rita has a keen interest in history, and also explores the fate of Lady Jane Grey who lived in Bradgate Park. Her discoveries highlight many social and cultural changes that have occurred in Leicester in the period which separates the worlds of the two girls, as well as identifying several sinister figures in Claires life. We travel forwards in time with Ritas discoveries, and backwards in time with Claires activities, until the truth of what happened is revealed.
